Iran has introduced a wide variety of landscapes and scenes because of its various climatic regions. Besides, its long history led it to have thousands of historical places which 23 of them are parts of UNESCO world heritage sites. These two factors have made Iran an outstanding country to visit and tourists have a broad range of choices. But among all of these sites, Shiraz has become a prominent city because of its historical memories from the main kings of ancient Persia and the famous city of Persian poets and beautiful gardens. Legendary Isfahan with masterpieces of architecture from Safavid dynasty, which takes you into the stories from one thousand and one nights, is another astonishing city. Yazd as the biggest adobe city in the world with its rich culture can take you to another world. This is a journey to the best of the best.

Best time: March and April
Day 1, 2 and 3: Because of the difference in passenger’s arrival time, the first day is going to be the transportation from the airport to the hotel and the rest day. The second and the third days, we will stay in Tehran and will discover it by walking in the city. We will visit various museums, having a look in Bazar, some palaces and fancy cafes and restaurants in the city.

Day 4: We will drive to Kashan which takes us 3 hours. We will visit Fin garden, different historical houses, Sialk hills and some other places. The fourth night, we reside in Kashan.

Day 5, 6 and 7: We will continue driving to Abyaneh which is a village with old red adobe houses and with customs, clothing and language of Zoroastrians before Islam. We will surf Abyaneh for some hours and then, start driving to Yazd, the biggest adobe city of the World which is also famous for its wind catchers (Badgir). This will take us 4 hours driving but we won’t drive all the way straight to Yazd; there are many sights on the way that we will have short stops in some of them and have a walk or rest. After arriving in Yazd and settling down, we will stay the next two days there. We assure you that there is a lot to see in Yazd. You can never be saturated of the amazing scenic places in this wonderful city. You can visit a wide variety of spots here, from mosques to old buildings and ancient complexes back to Zoroastrian time. There are different types of cookies and Baklavas originated from this city which can be good souvenirs for your family and friends.
Day 8, 9 and 10: On day 8th, after breakfast, we will start driving to our next destination which can be the most amazing part of the trip, Shiraz. It takes us 5 hours to drive there, and on the way, we will visit Pasargade, the first capital of the Achaemenid Empire under Cyrus the Great and his tomb and palace. After spending some hours here, we arrive in Shiraz. One of the next two days, we surf the city itself and visit different places such as Persian poet’s tombs, gardens and Bazar Vakil and Vakil complex.

Since Shiraz has a very old history back to ancient times, there are a lot of historical attraction to check. Ancient Persepolis, the ceremonial capital of the Achaemenid Empire is one of the must see. We try to be there for the sun set that you can have a fantastic view of Persepolis. Naqsh-e Rustam (necropolis) is also another amazing site to discover. One of the nights in Shiraz, we do a night city walk to enjoy the pleasant scent of a special tree which is spread in the city during this special time of the year (April). After the third night, our residence in Shiraz will be finished.

Day 11 and 12: Driving to Isfahan takes us 5 hours. Isfahan people say that Isfahan is half of the world because they believe that the beauties of Isfahan are as fascinating as the rest of the world. We stay the next day in Isfahan and discover the city and its unique places. Since Isfahan is another important city in Iran history, it is full of fine artworks, tile works and unique architectural works such as historical bridges and mosques, Naghshe-Jahan complex, traditional bazaars, Vank Cathedral and etc.

Day 13: Driving back to Tehran to get ready for your departure flight. This last drive would be around 5 hours and you can rest after arriving in the hotel.

Day 14: Transportation to the airport and fly back.
